

Mark Schlappi, Systems Analysis Program Manager, Maricopa Association of Governments (MAG), Phoenix, AZ

Mark Schlappi has over 30 years of transportation planning experience in regional planning, city planning, and area planning. Mr. Schlappi has a Masters of Science degree in Civil Engineering from Virginia Polytechnic and State University. Recently Mr. Schlappi has been responsible for refining the MAG Travel Demand Model, collecting data to support the modeling, and applying the model to a wide range of applications. These applications include; regional and corridor studies, highway and transit analysis, truck travel, and air quality evaluations. Current notable projects include the MAG Mode Choice Study, the MAG Bottleneck Study, Transportation GIS, 2002 Regional travel Speed Study, 2002 Traffic Volume Study, and 2001 Household Travel Survey.